Drug Probation Hit

Sheriffs Rap Easy Court

BY CARROLL WILSON

Sheriffs from Randall and Potter Counties lambasted court leniency on narcotics violators Tuesday and called for stiffer sentences to aid in controlling drug traffic in the two counties.

Sheriffs Slim Johnston of Canyon and Paul Gaither of Amarillo spoke along with other area law enforcement officers Tuesday afternoon on narcotics in the two-county area.

Calling drugs "a real problem" in Canyon and Amarillo, Sheriff Johnston said he is "tired" of probated sentences for narcotics violators.

Johnston's speech followed one given by Gaither, in which the Potter County lawman said he is "utterly opposed to probated sentences in district court."

The series of speeches, which included comments from city Police Chief Calvin Costley and two Amarillo policemen, was presented to a joint meeting of the Amarillo and Canyon city commissions and other interested governmental officials.

"I believe in probation," Sheriff Johnston said, "but when you give a man probation and he violates it and then he gets it again--well, I'm tired of it.

"I think the public should be tired of it, too."

The sheriff said more action is needed in the courts in prosecuting drug offenders.

"You can't expect the police departments and sheriff's offices to keep on arresting them and have courts and juries turn them loose," he said. "We all have to do something about this problem, not just law enforcement offices. We can't do it all ourselves."

Canyon Mayor Paul Lindsey, speaking briefly, said there are "a number of people who won't accept anything but force.

"We've got to have the means to force them to comply," he said.

Commenting on the availability of narcotics in Canyon and Randall County, both the sheriff and police chief agreed that it is available.

Costley said marijuana has been and will be the big drug problem in Canyon--particularly in the high school and West Texas State University.

Sheriff Johnston said narcotics are available--but mainly to known users.

"I don't think kids can just go out and buy it," he said.

But, Costley said drug or

School Depository Awarded To WTSB

BY CARROLL WILSON

The Canyon School Board awarded its annual depository contract Tuesday night to West Texas State Bank.

Joe Gill, in making the motion, said "it is obvious that one bid is better than the other."

First National Bank of Canyon was only other bidder for the depository contract.

In other action, the board received a new budget which would raise the school district tax rate from the current $1.65 to $1.70.

Depository bids from the two banks were presented July 17 to the board, but a decision was tabled at that time in order for board members to seek an attorney's advice on West Texas State's bid.

Both banks offered maximum interest rates. Both offered to compound time deposit interest daily and both offered to handle school overdrafts at no charge.

But, WTSB had the edge in its offering to loan money to the district up to its legal maximum of $100,000 for an indefinite period at no interest.

First National had offered to loan money on 30 days or less at 4 1/2 per cent and at 4 per cent on loans extending more than 30 days.

The legality of loaning money interest-free was questioned by First National, but an attorney's opinion established its legality.

The vote to award the contract was unanimous.

Supt. of Schools Jerry Jacobs presented the proposed 1969-70 school district budget for board members' review.

A special meeting will be held Tuesday night for discussion of the budget.

The budget anticipates a total of $1,905,551 in receipts and total expenditures of $1,875,551 from regular funds.

Total budget for the year is

Bugs And Heat Threaten Elms

Lack of rain and high temperatures, combined with insect damage, have been blamed for the blight threatening many elm trees in the Canyon area.

In the south part of town, trees are denuded, the ground strewn with leaves like an early autumn had come to the city.

Trees on well-watered lawns, such as the WTSU campus and around the courthouse, are faring better. Blight can be detected even on these, however.

"Two main problems, in my opinion, are causing the damage to elms and some other trees," John Brazzil, county agricultural agent, said Wednesday. "First is the 60-day drought and high temperatures we have had."

"The High Plains area is not a natural environment for trees," he continued. "To create a desirable artificial environment for them, it takes lots of water. Most people just do not realize how much water a large tree must have in a dry spell."

Insects are the second threat to local elms. The elm leaf beetle, the bagworm, and the red spider mite have all contributed to the damage.

Worst now is the gray beetle. Evidence of leaves that the beetle has skeletonized can be seen on elms throughout town.

"We have sprayed for the beetle with insecticide," Brazzil said. "It's successful if the tree has been thoroughly sprayed with a spray

Laws May Aid In Enforcement

Three laws passed recently by the Texas legislature put teeth in penalties for drug users and sellers, add drug danger courses to public schools and include LSD as a dangerous drug.

One act, which amends a previous law, provides that any person who unlawfully "furnishes, sells, barters, trades, administers, or gives, or offers to furnish, sell, barter, trade, administer, or give to another person any narcotic drug, is guilty of a felony..."

The amendment provides that a punishment for the first conviction of a violator of the act will be imprisonment for not less than five years nor more than 10 years.

For a second conviction, the violator is punishable by imprisonment for not less than 10 years nor more than life.

The teeth of the act lie in the fact that under its provisions suspended sentence or probation is not available to a person upon a second or subsequent conviction.

Another strong section of the act stipulates that any person 21 years of age or older who "unlawfully furnishes, sells, barters, trades, administers, or gives, or offers to furnish, sell, barter, trade, administer or give a person under the age of 21 years any narcotic drug . . . is guilty of a felony..."

Punishment is similar to that as outlined above, except in the provision for a second offender.

For a second offender, the punishment is imprisonment of not less than 10 years not more than life--or by death. Suspended sentence or probation are not available to the second offender.

Another act provides for the creation of a Crime and Narcotics Advisory Commission, which will be composed of nine members.

The commission is charged with studying narcotics prob-

WTSU Backfield Rich With Duane, Thompsons

West Texas State University's 1969 backfield, although unproven in the quarterback department, will be the biggest and fastest in the school's history.

With fullback Duane Thomas, who is touted by one professional scout as the top back in the nation, and two halfbacks Olan Thompson and Ralph "Rocky" Thompson, the WTSU Buffs should have no trouble equaling the speed and agility of last year's All-American Eugene "Mercury" Morris.

Two completely inexperienced sophomores are vying for the quarterback berth this fall.

Head Coach Joe Kerbel calls Clarence "Pookie" Redic and Ed Holwig "potentially the top two sophomore quarterbacks around."

But neither Redic nor Holwig have taken center snap during a collegiate contest. Reserve signal-caller Eric Roanhaus hasn't thrown a pass in senior college and has only four rushing attempts to his credit.

The Thompson boys (no relation) are larger and as fast or faster than departed Morris, who broke three NCAA rushing records last fall.

Fullback Thomas at the running back position should make a strong bid for All-American honors. The Dallas senior has regained his 9.8 speed after recovering from injuries which slowed him during his sophomore and junior season and has grown to a solid 222 pounds.

Rocky Thompson, at 5-11 and 206 pounds, processes 9.5 speed, while Olan is 5-11, 197 pounds and has 9.7 speed. Morris, who holds the all time NCAA career rushing record and has signed with the Miami Dolphins for $125,000, is 5-10, 190 pounds and has 9.7 speed.

The 6-2 Thomas showed All-American form during the spring football final Varsity-Alumni game. In a 42-8 romp over the Alumni, Thomas car-

Allen To Leave; Tax Office Sold

R. B. Allen, a Canyon businessman 20 years, announced this week the sale of his bookkeeping and tax service to a previous employe.

Eddie Holcomb, who worked for Allen in 1960-62, will assume ownership of the office Sept. 1.

Allen said he will move to Dallas between Sept. 1 and Jan. 1 to assume full-time duties as executive director of a consolidation of the Texas Hardware and Implement Association and the Tri-State Hardware and Implement Association.

He has served as executive director of the Tri-State organization since 1955.

Allen moved to Canyon in July of 1949 from Houston. He opened his tax and bookkeeping office in 1952.

Joyce Rushmer, an employe of Allen 15 years, will continue work at the office, although on a part-time basis, Allen said.

Holcomb, a Tulia native, graduated in 1960 from West Texas State University with a BBA degree. He boasts 11 years' experience in the tax and bookkeeping field.

Holcomb moved from Canyon about 1 1/2 years ago to work in Amarillo.

While in Canyon, he was a president of the Rotary Club, a

Court Tables PRCC Request

Randall County Commissioners tabled a request Monday from the Potter-Randall Citizens Committee for a donation of $3,000.

The request was in the form of a letter to the court from PRCC president Jerry Kolander.

Several of the commissioners pointed out that the court had never sought the services of the committee, which makes community-wide studies on various problems.

The letter said the PRCC is currently studying three areas: comprehensive health planning, child welfare responsibilities in the metropolitan community and library services responsibilities in the metropolitan community.

Commissioners, reviewing several recent grass fires in the county, instructed acting County Judge Elton Cox to write a letter to Santa Fe Railway recommending the burning off of weeds and grass on all railroad right-of-way in the county.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman said the railroad has caused several small grass fires on their right-of-way and the Canyon Fire Department has had to put out the blazes.

The county uses the services of the city fire department with cost on a per fire basis.

In other action, the court approved a plat presented by Mrs. Dick McKever for a subdivision of mobile homes in Rockwell Acres. The plat included 13.95 acres and is adjacent a current mobile home subdivision also owned by the McKevers.

Graduation Today; Yarborough Here

West Texas State University will have its first televised commencement at 8 p.m. today and a U. S. senator, who has been significant in education legislation during the past decade will speak to the graduates.

A total of 386 graduates will be handed their diplomas at the exercises which will be at the Amarillo Civic Center.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, who has been either sponsor or co-sponsor of every major piece of education legislation passed into law in the last 10 years, will cap a week-long Panhandle tour with the commencement speech.

The senator has visited about 30 area towns and cities since Monday, speaking on everything from Vietnam to lower interest rates and farm prices.

Yarbrough is chairman of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare.

Prior to tonight's graduation, the senator will tour WTSU's Killgore Research Center and other places of interest on the campus beginning at 1:30 p.m. today. Following the tour, he will be guest at a 5:30 p.m. commencment dinner.

KGNC-TV of Amarillo will telecast the commencment exercises from 8:30-9 p.m. today and will feature Yarborough's speech.

Eight members of the WTSU Reserve Officers Training Corps will be commissioned second lieutenants tonight by Lt. Col. Billy R. Smith, professor of military science.

Two hundred and fifty-five students are seeking bachelor degrees and 131 are seeking master degrees.

Friday, Yarborough will return to Canyon about 6:30 p.m. to attend the production of "TEXAS" in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Government Passes Decade

5 City Managers Come And Go

BY CAROLYN RINEHART

After a decade in Canyon, the commission-manager form of government has won general approval from city officials, although one former mayor has "mixed emotions" about the system.

It was on June 23, 1959 that the present city charter setting up the commission-manager plan was adopted in a city-wide election. The charter passed by almost 3 to 1 in a light vote: 271 for, 101 against.

Since then, Canyon has had six city managers. Their average tenure in office has been less than two years. Why the fast turnover?

"There's a high demand for younger persons in the public administration field," Mayor Paul Lindsey said, "and we've got to admit that we're not among the top in city manager salaries, by any means."

Canyon's present city manager, H. F. Northcutt, is paid $850 per month. Mayor Lindsey mentioned Tulia and Hereford as nearby towns that pay their city managers more than Canyon does. "Hereford pays nearly twice as much," he said.

Mayor Lindsey estimated an average salary for a city manager for a town Canyon's size to be about $12,500 a year, or $1,042 a month. "That wouldn't be the lowest, but it certainly wouldn't be the highest either. It's easy to see why the young men leave when they can go down the road and make more money," he said.

Northcutt, as city manager, supervises the city's 40 full-time and 9 temporary employees. He has authority to hire and fire all but department heads, which must be approved by the five-member commission. He also is responsible for preparing the annual budget and for keeping the commission advised as to the city's money needs.

After only a month on the job, Northcutt had praise for his Canyon organization. "I'm very favorably impressed with the job," he commented. "The caliber of city employees here is high. In fact, they're the most dedicated city employees I've seen. Their job is more than just a paycheck to them."

Before the council-manager form of government was voted in, Canyon was a general law city with the commission form of government--an elected mayor and two elected commissioners.

A petition, bearing the names of 10 per cent of the town's qualified voters as required by law, was submitted to the commission early in 1959. It asked that the commission appoint a committee to draw up a home rule charter for Canyon.

Charles Donnell, manager of the Varsity Theater, was mayor at the time. He and Paul Lind-

Baptist Pastor Stung By Wasp, Now Satisfactory

Rev. Strauss Atkinson is reported in satisfactory condition at Neblett Memorial Hospital this week following a wasp sting on Tuesday.

Rev. Atkinson, who has been pastor of the First Baptist Church, Canyon, for 16 years, was bitten by a wasp about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon while installing air conditioning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sanders.

He returned home and was taken to the hospital by his wife. He was placed in emergency treatment as he is highly allergic to the sting of wasps. About 4 years ago Rev. Atkinson was taken for treatment of a bee sting, according to the church secretary.

I had lunch with Joe Kerbel and Bob Crudgington the other day and the conversation turned to the war in Vietnam.

I must say I was surprised to find the Buffalo head football coach as well versed in foreign affairs as he turned out to be.

But then it is not too surprising either. Joe was a Marine officer during and just after World War II and he had several brushes with Chinese communists.

"You know all this stuff you've read about communism," the coach began. "Well, it's a whole lot worse than it is described. It is just as bad as you can imagine."

Kerbel explains our presence in Vietnam.

"We have to be there," says the ex-Marine captain. "If we weren't there we would have lost Indonesia and the communists would already be in the Phillippines."

A politician has been traveling around the Panhandle the past few days saying the war in Vietnam is a Nixon War and laying the blame for inflation at the door of the present President.

How ridiculous can you get?

Dr. C. C. Callarman made an interesting speech at Lions Club this week.

He suggested sweeping changes in the Panhandle business community. He indicated a need for tanneries, leather processing plants and shoe factories to complement the feedlots and packing houses now moving to the area.

He pointed out that most of the hides from Panhandle animals are shipped overseas for processing and said that it could be done just as easily right here in the Panhandle.

Dr. Callarman left his audience breathless when he peeked with them into the future.

"Space exploration?" he asked. "It has just begun. There are millions of planets as large as ours in this galaxy and literally billions of galaxies in the universe."

He said that someday men will ride radio beams at the speed of light but even this won't be fast enough for them to investigate solar systems trillions of light years away.

Senators who visited Panhandle Plains Historical Museum Saurday went back to Austin with high praises for the institution.

"It was the best collection of Western history I've ever seen and I hope each one of you goes next time you have the opportunity," said Senator Don Kennard of Fort Worth.

"It was the most spectacular show I've ever seen," he said of "TEXAS."

"I hope the conference committee on appropriations can double the museum's appropriations," said Senator Jack Strong of Longview.

He was also very complimentary of "TEXAS" pointing out that it is a self-sustaining undertaking.

Tax Board Accepts Roll

The city tax board of equalization accepted the 1969 tax roll Monday night and recommended investigation into possible tax structure changes in several parts of town.

The board--Dr. W. J. Wooten, Dr. Burwell Southern and Bill Davis--met twice this week, hearing five persons Saturday.

A recommendation that the tax assessor-collector "look over changing the tax structure of property on 4th Avenue, 23rd Street, the Hereford Highway, and around the town square" was passed by the board.

An assessor-collector has not been named by the city. Dan Trew, former junior high school principal, has worked as acting assessor-collector.

In action Saturday, the board stood behind a July 17 decision to tax city banks according to a schedule outlined in state statute 7166.

Bill Adams and David West, representing the First National Bank, appeared before the board to protest an almost $200,000 increase in the bank's taxes as a result of the decision.

Adams termed the action "unfair."

Last year the bank was taxed on capital surplus and real estate. Assessments totaled $456,470.

This year, according to the statute, the bank was taxed on capital, surplus and undivided profits. Assessments this year totaled $629,590.

In other action the board voted to remain active throughout the year.

Pool Closes For Summer

The city swimming pool in Conner Park is closed for the season, City Manager H. F. Northcutt announced Monday.

The part required to repair the pool's pump equipment will take some two weeks to procure, and by that time school will be starting, he said.

August 31 was originally scheduled as the pool closing date.

Allotment Cut On U.S. Wheat

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin announced last week a 12 per cent cut in wheat acreage allotments for 1970.

Although allotments for Randall County have not yet been announced, it is possible acreage here will be sliced at least 12 per cent.

National allotment is 45.5 million acres. The 1969 allotment was 51.6 million acres.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

The current burden on the American taxpayer is so tyrannical that one is tempted to rejoice with anyone who finds a loophole in the tax structure. It is, however, these loopholes, added to the ratholes into which our tax billions are being poured that make the tax burden so oppressive for John Q. Taxpayer.

The average working American produces more during his working years than any man has ever produced in the history of mankind. Yet he will be--as his father before him has been--in debt all his life; he will die in debt. The fruits of his productivity have been eaten up by taxes.

The worker does not have the tax loophole enjoyed by his business neighbor: the expense account. The wealth business executive can spend thousands of dollars on a champagne party for "business entertainment," all tax free.

The farm laborer, construction worker, or school teacher cannot even deduct the price of the gasoline in his car, though he may have to commute a hundred miles or more to his work, daily.

If by unusual thrift, hard work, and good fortune, a worker does manage to accumulate debt-free real estate, the IRS will confiscate it at his death. His heirs have no choice about buying the property back from the IRS: The tax collector refuses to accept the real estate; he demands the money.

Such tyranny has generated the biggest tax loophole of them all: the tax-free foundation.

There are, of course, many religious foundations supporting homes for abandoned children, helpless or needy old people, unwed mothers, and other unfortunates. These foundations probably save money for the taxpayers, in addition to ministering to humanity; certainly, they should be tax exempt.

But what may have started in good faith has grown to be an insidious racket. At the last official count, reported by the Small Business Committee of the U. S. Congress, the known number of tax-exempt foundations was in excess of 45,000.

The proposed goals and the only legal excuses for the creation of these financial giants are education and philanthrophy. Much of the "philanthrophy" of the larger foundations has been directed toward the "better race relations" which are now fomenting insurrection and revolution throughout America.

A number of foundations have also dedicated millions of their tax-free dollars to the high purpose of convincing the human drones that they are entitled to all the benefits of law and labor without participating in either. The Ford Foundation was in the forefront of the proponents of guaranteed income to every American--whether or not he works.

Henry Ford was a hard-working man dedicated to the American ideal of independence, self-reliance, and economy. That great American must be rolling in his grave at all the un-American concepts being fostered by his hard-earned money.

The bulk of the foundation money has gone to schools, universities, and professors for SPECIFIC studies and activities. In addition to increasing the onerous burden of the taxpayers, the favored foundations are encouraging the destruction of the many cultures that have been the finite source of our strength, and that have enriched us, and made us unique among the nations of the world.

Foundations also promote the amalgamation of the races, the churches, and whatever else serves to weaken America, and advance their ideal of a World Empire--the respectable name for communism.

The expense accounts and the tax-free foundations may be the largest loopholes, but anyone with enough money to hire a good lawyer can find others. The bulk of the taxes are paid by the worker in withholding taxes, and by the consumer in hidden taxes everytime he makes the smallest purchase--even a loaf of bread or quart of milk.

And the workers and consumers will go right on paying the rich man's taxes as long as they bear their burdens in silence.

Okay Given Signals On 23rd St.

Final approval has been given by the Texas Highway Commission to a city request that signal lights be installed on two intersections in Canyon.

Signal lights with left-turn indicators and mounted on mast-arms will be installed at the intersections of Spur 48 and 23rd Street and 10th Avenue and 23rd Street.

Mayor Paul Lindsey said he was notified of the approval Tuesday through the office of Chili Smith, district highway engineer in Amarillo.

The signal lights will be semi-actuated. Left-turn lane protectors will be painted on 23rd Street at each intersection.

The mayor said approximate cost of the project will be $10,000.

He said he anticipates instructions from the city commission to advertise for bids for the signals tonight.

Construction will not be completed by opening date of West Texas State University, he said, but will probably take two months.

Hot Dogs For Cubs

A hot dog supper and game night was held Monday evening for Den 3 of Pack 66 Cub Scouts at the home of Mrs. Louie Davis, den mother.

Volleyball, tether ball, gymnastics, walk-the-barrel, tug-o-war, and an obstacle race were among the games led by den dad, Louie Davis.

Attending were Randy Cooper, Clay Stark, Edward Baca, Edwin Dillehay, Jimmy Allen, Lesley and Doug Davis and guest, Geo Caldwell.

Other den activities for the summer have included a bicycle fishing trip to Lehman's creek for eleven boys and den chief, Cliff Prichard. On the fishing trip, each boy preapred and cooked his own hobo dinner.

On Friday, August 8, the boys toured the city's points of interest including the Post Office, Sheriff's Office, New Courthouse Annex and the Fire Station. The group also went throughout the county to view different phases of soil conservation work under the guidance of a Soil Conservation officer. Eight attended the activity.

Legion Team Gets Trophies

Canyon's American Legion baseball team had a trophy-giving party Friday night at the Legion hall.

All team members, the coach and the manager received trophies as souveniers of the team's successful 1969 season. The team placed second in the district, losing only to Tascosa of Amarillo, and advanced to the regional plaoff.

This is the tenth year Canyon has had an American Legion baseball team, but the first year the team has made the regional tournament.

The team gave their coach, Max Bosley, a trophy in appreciation of his work. The trophy is about 14 inches high and has a figure of a baseball player on it.

Trophies were also presented to Tom Lair, team manager, and J. W. Kleinschmidt, American Legion commander. Each boy on the team got an individual trophy.

Players on the team were Bobby Martin, Frank Belcher, Lynn Salmon, Frank Weaver, Lynn Noel, Randall Hicks, Stu Downing, Rick Hales, and Ricky Johnson.

Also Sandy Hair, Gaylen Davis, Macky Bosley, Keith Keeling, Jose Martinez, Steve Russell, and Calvin Yarbrough.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ford last week was Mrs. Henry Crouse and sons of Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Crouse will be remembered as the former June Ford. She left this week to join her husband who is employed with Western Electric in Houston.

Larry Daniel Wins Club Golf Tourney

Larry Daniel, 17-year-old Canyon High School senior, fired a 67 on the Canyon Country Club golf course Sunday to win the 1969 Club Championship Golf Tournament.

At the end of 18 holes Saturday, during the 36-hole golf tourney, it appeared that the 1968 Defending Champion, Porter Vaughn, was well on his way to racking up another title with a leading score of 68.

At the end of 27 holes Vaughn had shot a 9-hole total of 37, and Daniels had moved into contention with a 34; while 15-year-old high school sophomore, Joe Ziegler, had birdied his way into the scene with a 33. Daniels first 18-hole score was a 72, with Ziegler coming in four over par with a 74.

Ziegler then birdied No. 10, Vaughn bogeyed, with Daniels parring. This left Ziegler, Vaughn and Daniels tied. On No. 11 Ziegler missed a 24-inch putt for a bogey, while Daniels made a 3-foot putt for a birdie and Vaughn parred. This left Daniels in the lead over Vaughn one up with Ziegler one back. The game continued in this fashion until No. 14 when Daniels suddenly came to life and fired four straight threes, bogeyed 18 for a 33, coming in with an 18-hole total of 67-139. Vaughn finished with a 39 which gave him an 18-hole total of 76-144. Joe Ziegler had a 71-145 for third.

The first flight was won by Cecil Parkhill who shot a 75-76-151; second went to Jack Ziegler for 80-76-156 over Clyde Miller's 79-77-156 sudden death play-off on No. 1.

Second flight was taken by R. C. Burton with 77-80-157; second to Dean House with 80-85-165 by default over Chester Reynolds 82-83-165.

Old Records Humorous

Arrested for violating the flirting ordinance? Four young Canyon men found themselves in that predicament in the summer of 1926.

Canyon of forty years ago and more was a vastly different place from the city today, and records of the magistrate's court tell much about the times.

The mayor heard misdemeanor cases then, and some of the charges seem laughable today. However, people, then as now, found ways to get into trouble.

Drug abuse charges were unheard of, but there were many cases of intoxication in a public place, affray (fighting), and speeding. The speed limit in 1918 (whether within or outside the city was not mentioned) was 15 miles an hour.

Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson has records of cases going back to 1907. One dollar plus court costs was the usual fine, the costs bringing the defendant's payment to around $8.50.

On July 5, 1926, a warrant was issued for the arrest of four men for "then and there inviting and soliciting three women (named) to ride with them, not being acquainted with any of them, and not being husband to any of them." The "flirting ordinance" was their downfall.

A housewife was arrested in 1926 for "staking and tying her cow so she could get in and on the streets and sidewalks" of Canyon.

An ordinance of that time prohibited cars from being parked nearer than ten feet from corner turns in the city.

Does anyone remember the "Red Ball" car? The brand now is forgotten, but in 1926 the driver of one was cited for driving more than 20 miles an hour.

Even farther back in the records, a man was cited in July, 1907 for "riding a horse on and through the streets of Canyon at an unusually rapid, fast and dangerous gate (sic) and speed in violation of the ordinance of Canyon." He was fined one dollar and costs.

If a man could not pay his fine, he was "sentenced to work on the streets until same is paid as provided by law" in 1907.

In 1908, a man was charged with letting his horse run loose in the city. When the horse was impounded, the man was charged with getting his horse from the pound without consent of the city marshal.

Drunkenness was a common charge, but drunk in church? That was the charge brought against a man in the summer of 1908. He was fined a dollar and costs for being "found in a state of intoxication in the Baptist Church in Canyon City."

Young men on motorcycles really cut a dashing figure in 1910, but one dashed a little too far--onto the sidewalk.

Occasionally there were charges for gambling, and for a while driving cars on the wrong side of the street seemed like a fad! In 1910 a man was fined the usual fee for "discharging a roman candle on the public square." And it wasn't even the Fourth of July.

Many Friends Attend Reception For J.A. Hills

More than 100 of their friends greeted Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill Tuesday evening at a reception in the student union building formal lounge at West Texas State University.

All of Dr. Hill's children were present for the occasion.

Dr. Hill, former president of WTSU and a citizen of Canyon for almost 60 years, and Mrs. Hill are moving to Georgetown. They will live in Wesleyan Retirement Home there.

The reception was the last in a series of parties and get-togethers honoring the Hills before their move. They planned to leave Wednesday morning.

Dr. Hill came to Canyon in 1910 as a member of the West Texas State Normal College faculty. He succeeded Dr. R. B. Cousins as president in 1918, and held that office until 1948.

He is a charter member of the Canyon Rotary Club and has served twice as its president.

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Cornette were host and hostess for the reception, and Mrs. Ruth Cross, former dean of women, presided at the serving table.

Coming from out of town to attend the reception honoring their father were Mrs. Marion Hill or Borger, J. Davis Hill of Austin, and Joe Hill of California.

Cookies and frosted punch were served to the guests. The serving table had an arrangement of yellow carnations with candles in silver candelabra. Miss Eileen Moss, senior music major at WTSU, played background piano music.

Mrs. Hill wore a corsage of pink roses given her by friends. The honored couple were given the guest book containing the signatures of those who came.

After the affair, Dr. and Mrs. Hill stayed for part of the reception for summer graduates. More than 200 attended this party.

Cemetery Group Honors J.A. Hill

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill were honorees at a farewell party Monday night at Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick's home.

Dreamland Cemetery Association gave the party for Dr. Hill, who has served the association twice as its president. He was also a charter member of the association's board of directors.

Dr. Hill, president emeritus of WTSU, and his wife will soon move to Georgetown after a stay of more than 50 years in Canyon.

Homemade ice cream and cake were served at the fete. Roy Whittenburg and Jerry LaGrone expressed appreciation to Dr. Hill for his friendship and services to the cemetery association.

Those attending were Dr. and Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Warwick, Whittenburg, LaGrone, Clarence Thompson, Mrs. Tom Knighton, Mrs. Troy Martin, Mitchell Jones, Bernard Warren, E. E. Plank, Mrs. R. A. Neblett, Mrs. Lou Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. Gene McGlasson, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Cooper, Mrs. Alfred Bellah, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Black, and Mrs. Dorothy Smith.

This Costs Texans
$ 2 MILLION A DAY

YOU HELP PAY THE BILL

The way cars are being wrecked and the way folks are being injured and killed in traffic accidents, it looks like this year's Texas traffic toll will top $800 million. This figures out to be more than $2 million a day and that is a lot of money!

When you pay for your auto insurance you help pay this bill because most of your insurance rate is for the amount of money insurance companies pay for traffic accidents. Add to this the amount they pay for autos destroyed or damaged by collision, fire, hail, theft and pilferage. Lower these amounts and your insurance costs will go down. Raise these amounts that insurance companies must pay and your auto insurance costs will have to go up. It is as simple as that.

Here are three ways to cut your auto insurance costs.

1. Help reduce the number of Texas traffic accidents. You can do this by driving the very best you can and by insisting that traffic laws are enforced in your town, county, and state. Let your Mayor, County Officials and Governor Smith know that you want all traffic laws enforced.

2. Help cut down on car thefts and vandalism by locking your car and taking the keys whenever you park. Always try to park your car in a safe place.

3. Ask your insurance agent to show you how you can save money on your auto insurance by taking full advantage of the Driver Education, Two Car and other discounts now offered in Texas.

Auto insurance costs will be cut in Texas after accidents and their costs go down. You and other motorists of Texas can bring this about . . . if you really want to. IT IS UP TO YOU!

WT Cheerleaders Win At School

West Texas State University cheerleaders came away with an "excellent" rating and the spirit stick in competition Tuesday night in a Dallas cheerleading school.

The six girls from WTSU won the rating for their performance in the contest and the stick for showing the most outstanding school spirit, Mrs. Mary Hill, cheerleader sponsor, said.

They were competing with groups from 14 colleges, including Texas Christian University, Southern Methodist University, the University of Houston, and others.

The cheerleaders will remain at the school through Friday. Nightly awards and ratings are given following competition each evening. Overall awards will be given Friday.

Final Okay Is Given Afro Course

A course on Afro-American studies has received final approval and will be offered at West Texas State University during the fall term of 1970.

The course, entitled "Introduction to Afro-American Studies," will be initiated in the WTSU history department and will be listed in the university catalogue for that term.

The history department requested that the course be instituted following a meeting last spring of administrators, history department officials and several black students.

The WTSU board of regents gave final go-ahead to the course earlier this month.

According to its catalogue listing, the course will be concerned with the "historical, economic, social and cultural development of the Afro-American people with particular emphasis on contributions to the United States."

News Around Town

Spending the night in the home of Mrs. J. E. Mickey last Thursday was her son, Kenneth Mickey, of Mineral Wells and Zdenek Voracek and wife, Eva, of Prague, Czechoslovakia.

Voracek and his wife have been in the United States for eleven months teaching language in a university in Indiana. The group visited the museum in Canyon while here.

Rev. Ray Custer and family of El Paso have arrived in Canyon to establish their home. Rev. Custer is the new pastor for Grace Baptist Church here. The church is south of Rex Reeves Elementary School on Twelfth Avenue.

New neighbors in Canyon are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Read and ten-month-old daughter, Vera. The family is living at 1306 Second Avenue.

Backfield.....

ried the ball only eight times, but scored on four of those efforts and totaled 210 yards. His scoring dashes were for 62, 22, 80 and 6 yards.

Thomas, who worked this past summer for Levi-Strauss & Co., assisting in interviewing, selecting, hiring and job counseling, was once called by a professional football scout "the greatest pro running back prospect I've seen."

In only five games as a sophomore Thomas ripped off 596 yards. A broken ankle in the New Mexico State contest cut his season five games short.

A pulled muscle slowed Thomas slightly last fall, but he still gained 708 yards and ranks as the 10th leading rusher in the school's history with 1,304 yards.

Backing up Thomas is Ramse Falafine, a Samoan, who lives in Honolulu, Hawaii. One of the squad's more rugged athletes, the 210-pounder spends his free time during the summers surfing. San Antonio's Timothy Ehlinger is another fullback candidate.

Olan Thompson saw limited service last year running behind All-American Morris, rushing twice for seven yards. The quick Lockhart, Tex., youngster hardened his 5-11 frame by working this summer at the American Smelting and Refining Company in Amarillo.

Rocky Thompson twice led the nations' junior colleges in scoring at Hartnell College in Salinas, Calif., totaling 285 points in two seasons. He averaged 9.36 yards per carry as a freshman and 8.9 as a sophomore. He booted 45 of 46 points after touchdowns last fall and had a 52-yard field goal to his credit.

Behind the Thompson boys is letterman Aaron Banks from Anadarko, Okla. The processor of 9.5 speed in the 100-yard dash, Banks returned 11 kickoffs 198 yards last fall.

Redic, the former Odessa Ector High School all-stater made a fantastic debut as a collegiate player last fall when he was the nation's fourth leading kick scorer with 67 points.

The 6-0, 188-pounder booted 34 of 35 extra points and added 11 of 28 field goals for his point total. His long field goal was a school record-breaking 52-yarder.

As a high school quarterback at Ector, Redic was fantastic as a passer, runner and kicker. During spring drills at West Texas, he quickly came to the front as a team leader.

Kerbel was impressed with both his passing and running. Several times in scrimmages he was forced out of his pocket of pass protection and used his running ability to pick up yardage. He excelled in running the triple option play, which was perfected and refined by Kerbel and his staff.

Holwig, from Highspirr, Pa., is the Roman Gabriel-type of quarterback, standing 6-4 and weighing 210 pounds.

The Buffalo coaching staff was impressed with the big fellow's strong and accurate throwing arm. The finance major was an all-around athlete in high school, earning 12 letters at Steelton-Highspirr High School.

Roanhaus transferred to West Texas in the spring of 1968 from Ventura Junior College after a brilliant sophomore season during which he completed 100 of 206 passes for 1,248 yards and eight touchdowns.

The red-headed signal-caller from Port Hueneme, Calif., is an accurate short and medium range passer, but hasn't developed as a long thrower, as have both Redic and Holwig.

Whoever wins the battle to become starting quarterback will have his work cut out for him replacing departed Roy Winters, a two-year regular. Winters, in three years, became the school's third leading passer of all time.

The act also establishes that the "Central Education Agency shall develop curricula and teaching materials for units of study on the dangers of crime and narcotics. The units of study shall be required for all students each academic year for grades five through 12."

Another act includes in its list of dangerous drugs, LSD and LSD-25.

Government.

sey, present mayor and member of the charter-drafting committee, agreed that no one person or organization was responsible for pushing the charter idea.

"There was a general feeling that the council-manager form, with its four elected commissioners, elected mayor, and professional administrator, would be a smoother and more efficient system," Mayor Lindsey said.

Donnell recalled that some people felt staggered terms were an advantage of the new form, since under the old system the mayor and both commissioners were elected every two years. Often all three officials changed, and city government lacked continuity.

Another factor favoring the change was the reference convenience the charter gave. Formerly, points of city government took long hours of searching through state statutes to find.

Unlike Mayor Lindsey, Donnel expressed some doubts as to the expense of the city manager form and suggested, "It might be a good idea to ask the people to vote on it again."

The charter-drafting committee was appointed at the commission meeting of Feb. 5, 1959. Donnell was mayor, and Lowell Harrison and John F. Taylor were commissioners.

Bob Wear, who was minister of the Church of Christ, was chairman of the charter committee. Other members were Lindsey, Dave Mathis, W. J. Wooten Jr., Bill Davis, Luther Haggard, Mrs. C. W. Warwick, Mrs. Clay Cooper, Gene McGlasson, O. W. (Bud) Parker, Dr. Crannell Tolliver, John A. Williams, Bill Cherry, Levi Cole, and Hampton Lisle.

The committee prepared the charter, and the election followed in June of that year. A town meeting was held to explain the charter. Donnell remembered that only minor opposition was voiced.

After the election on June 23, Herschel Stevens, who was then serving as city secretary, was elevated to the post of city manager. He held the post about eight months.

Billy G. York was second manager, holding the position for three years, from July 1960 to July 1963. Dewey L. Bryant came from Rosebud, Tex., to be the third. He stayed two years and five months, from August 1963 to January 1966.

Gary Gwyn, from Fort Worth, was Canyon's fourth city manager. He served from January 1966 to September 1967, then took a manager's job at Edinburg in the Rio Grande Valley.

Fifth was Paul I. Davis, who served from September 1967 to June 1969. Davis is now city manager in Kerrville.

Salary has risen from $550 a month to the present level of $850. The city manager is required by the charter to have "executive and administrative qualifications," and in fact most managers, including Northcutt and Davis, have had college degrees in government or a related field with graduate work in public administration.

Lindsey, who has worked on the commission both before and after the change to the charter, said the present system means far less routine work and worry for commission members. "People used to have to telephone us all the time," he said. "They would call the secretary first, but he wouldn't have the authority to give them a yes or no."

According to a mimeographed study of municipal government distributed to Canyon citizens in 1959, more than one-third of all American cities of over 10,000 population and more than one-fifth of those between 5,000 and 10,000 had the council-manager plan in 1952. At that time, the National Municipal League strongly recommended the council-manager type as the most desirable form of city organization.

rig containing high-pressure motorized pumps."

Trees on the courthouse lawn have been sprayed with a mixture of lead arsenate, toxaphene, and chlordane. Beetle damage visible on the trees was done mostly before the first spraying, Brazzil said, although he indicated the infestation may be returning.

Bagworms have also been responsible for damage, especially in the early part of the summer. Their tear-drop-shaped cocoons are easily located.

"Bagworms are nearly impossible to kill at this time of the year, in the mature stage," Brazzil said. "They won't do much more damage until the spring, when the small, young worms can be wiped out with poisons."

Bagworms were noticed on several small elms in Conner Park.

Red spider mites are so small they can be seen only with a microscope. The little sucking insects can be detected by a change in color of the leaf to brownish. They have not been so noticeable on elms as on ornamental plants and juniper, Brazzil said. The mites can be killed with standard insecticides.

Elm bark beetles, which transmit the dreaded Dutch elm disease, have been found in the local area, Brazzil said. However, he said no laboratory has been able to detect any sign of the fungus disease itself.

Jimmie L. Green, assistant professor of agriculture at West Texas State University, thought a fungus disease was responsible for some of the blight. He, too, thought drought was a contributing factor.

Low humidity, coupled with high temperatures, lack of natural waterfall, and soil which does not permeate readily, makes much water necessary for a large tree. "You've got to leave your sprinkler on for more than two hours a day if it's going to do a tree any good," Brazzil said.

proposed at $3,224,406.

The board awarded contracts for meat products to be used in the district cafeterias for the first 90 days of the fall semester to three firms.

The contracts were awarded on a low cost per item basis.

Bidders were San Jacinto, Artic Foods and Blue Morrow. Total cost for meat products will be $11,362.31.

A contract for produce to be used in the cafeterias was awarded to Cooper's Market of Canyon who bid a price of its cost plus 15 per cent.

The board voted to increase school cafeteria lunch prices for senior high school students to 45 cents per plate.

Elementary lunch price will remain at 35 cents and junior high at 40 cents.

Jacobs requested the increase in lunch price because of a loss of about 14 cents per meal on high school lunches.

A request by the Canyon Fire Department that several gas cut-off valves be built into pipelines in the new junior high school building was approved by the board.

The department requested the cut-offs to enable them to turn off gas to one area of the new building without affecting gas output in other areas.

Also approved was a fire department request that an additional fire alarm system be constructed in the existing band and shop area of the junior high.

The board approved the allotment of $500 in the proposed budget for the Potter-Randall Citizens Committee.

Salary scales for auxiliary employes of the district--including secretaries, custodians, cafeteria workers and transportation and maintenance men--was reviewed by the board.

The scales in most areas were increased from $10 to $25.

Without taking any formal action, the board agreed with Jacobs that a student dress policy could best be formulated by a committee consisting of students and teachers.

In other action, the following teachers were hired by the board for the coming school year:

Mrs. Sherry Dambold--high school speech; William Lyon--high school choir; Miss Mina McClendon--high school journalism and English; Mrs. Dorothea Ford--Rex Reeves M. B. I.; Mrs. Norma Lambert--Rex Reeves speech therapy; Mrs. Gloria Taylor--Gene Howe 5th grade; Robert Horton--junior high coach and social studies; Gary Laramore--assistant band director; Mrs. Lee Smith--Umbarger grades 1 and 2.

narcotic usage is not restricted purely to hippie-type students. He said even some college athletes have been known to use drugs.

Mayor J. Ernest Stroud of Amarillo suggested to the collected officials that the two counties join in an effort to combat narcotics traffic.

He suggested a four-man investigative unit--composed of men from each law enforcement agency--be established and funded by each agency.

No action was taken on his proposal.

Dear friends,

Man is basically a social creature who lives his life in fellowship with others. At no time does he need an expression of this supporting fellowship more than at the time of mourning. Jesus said, "Blessed are they who mourn for they shall be comforted". He certainly was referring to the comfort afforded by our relatives and friends as He was of God's supporting presence.

Respectfully,

Jerry N LaGrone
